The New Traffic Manager.

DENVER, August 2.—H Collbron late general freight and passenger agent of the Queen and Crescent route with headquarters at Cincinnati has been appointed general traffic manager of the Colorado Midland

A Rumored Resignation

DENVER, Colo. August 2. The Times to night says: It is currently reported that Judge Elbert, associate justice of the supreme court will resign upon his return from the east and become a candidate for the nomination for governor on the republican ticket.

Campaign Banner.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The national democratic committee has adopted as the [illegible] "bandanna" designed and patented by Captain Joseph Jones of Paris Ky. It is a typical bandanna, and has the stars and stripes stamped in its centre and in each corner. The announcement of the committee's action has been made by Chairman Barnum.

Removal of the Southern Utes.

DENVER, August 2.—A special from Durango, Colo., says. The first council of the Southern Utes and the government commissioners appointed to treat with them for their removal to Utah will be held at Ignacio about the 12th inst. So far as can be learned the Indians are favorably impressed with the proposition of the government to purchase their reservation in Colorado and remove them across the line. It will probably take two or three months to conclude their work.

Dempsey Knocked Out.

MINNEAPOLIS, August 2.—Charlie Gleason, of this city, and Jack Dempsey, the light weight champion of the Pacific coast, fought it a finish to day, with skin gloves, on the banks of the Minnesota river near Fort Snelling. After a long dispute as to weight and the selection of a referee, the men got down to work about noon. The fight was for $250 a side, only fifteen of the friends of each contestant being allowed as spectators. Dempsey was knocked out in the eighth round.

International Prize Fight.

NEW YORK, August 2.—The international prize fight between Frank Murphy of England and Jack Havelin of Boston for $1000 a side and the light-weight championship came off this morning at Verplanck's, Point on the Hudson and ended in a draw. The men fought forty nine rounds, consuming three hours and fifteen minutes. A tug started from Harlem with Murphy and his party about midnight and steaming down the East River was joined at the Battery by the tug bearing Havelin and his party. Both tugs steamed up the Hudson to the scene of the fight. No time was lost on arriving at the battle-field and the ropes were quickly stretched in the presence of about fifty spectators. Murphy jailed his castor into the ring at 5:35. He was dressed in white tights, pink shoes with blue and white colors. He was followed at 5:37 by Havelin who wore black tights and shoes. Havelin was seconded by George Young and Jack McAuliffe and Murphy by Jack Ashton. Time was called at 5:44.

From the first the men fought hard. Havelin landed the first blow on Murphy's chest and before it was returned he landed another on his cheek. He got in a third blow on Murphy's neck as time was called. In the third round first blood was claimed and allowed for Murphy. The fight went on with the advantages gained by either man alternating in almost every round and neither obtaining any advantage sufficient to change the betting which continued even throughout.

The forty seventh round was the severest in the battle and was a terrible hard fight considering the condition of the men then. Havelin was staggering around the ring and Murphy was too weak to take advantage of his condition. At the end of the forty ninth round it was plain that neither of the men possessed sufficient strength to continue the fight and the referee stepped into the ring and declared the fight a draw. His decision was conceded by all to be the only one possible. Throughout the fight Havelin received nearly all of his punishment about the face and neck, while Murphy's body received the greater portion of the beating administered to him. At the close of the fight Havelin's left eye was closed tight and his right was closed to a slit. They were a big lump on his right cheek and a cut on the left side of his face. The blood was streaming down and covered his body. Murphy had a cut under his right eye and his left was closed. His forehead was a mass of lumps. It was difficult to say who was the most badly used up.

Stock Market.

NEW YORK, August 2.—Stocks were dull with a heavy tone throughout the day. Oregon Improvement was prominent, showing a sharp gain, but reacted towards the close. There was a fair realizing in Union Pacific and Western Union. The market closed about steady, the changes in the active list being generally in favor of lower prices. Government dull and steady.

THE COMMISSION BILL.

The Commons Still Discussing the Commission Bill.

Efforts of the Government to Prevent Further Debate.

Motions to Limit the Scope of the Inquiry Rejected.

Blaine's Opinion of Chamberlain Very Frankly Stated.

The Commons Debate.

LONDON, August 3.—In the commons to night Labouchere called the attention of the house to the breach of privilege of which the Times was guilty in charging the Parnellites with trying to down the Commission bill with a flood of black guardism unparalleled in the history of parliament.

Goschen concurred in the charge that a breach of privilege had been committed by the Times, but moved to proceed to business.

This being agreed to, he next moved that the chairman shall have the power at 1 o'clock in the morning to put the remaining clauses.

Reid appealed to the government to respect the right of the minority to obtain a full discussion of the obnoxious clauses.

Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt said that the motion was without the slightest reason of justice. The bill was of such importance that it ought to be adequately discussed.

T. P. O'Connor said the closure of the debate as proposed amounted to a decree that the most important proposals in the bill must be passed without any discussion. It was an act of brute nature on the part of the government.

Timothy Healy moved to amend the motion by inserting the words: "If the chairman so think," thus leaving to the discretion of the chair the application of the closure rule. Rejected.

Justin McCarthy moved an amendment extending the inquiry to the circumstances under which the charges were originally made and published by the Times. Rejected.

Labouchere moved that the letters should be inquired into and reported upon before other matters. He did not think that any member of the government was servile and base [laughter] as to refuse this reasonable concession. If the government did refuse it he would recommend Parnell to wash his hands of the commission and sue the Times for libel. Solely on this account Harcourt said without a doubt the commission would early inquire into their authenticity. The commission however must not be fettered and therefore the government could not accept the amendment. Sir Geo. Otto Trevelyan, Mr. Sexton and Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt, favored the amendment.

Lord Harrington objected to Major Sanderson was called to order for declaring that Harcourt had maligned the Parnellites before the Times did. Proceeding, he said what the Parnellites resented was evidently not an inquiry into the letters. They knew and every body knew that it was almost impossible to prove the authenticity of the letters. [Loud cheers and a Parnellite cry of "now the murder's out."] He always looked upon the letters as secondary. [Ironical cheers.] An inquiry was needed, not into the character of Parnell alone but into that of the whole party, to see whether they were fit to be rulers of Ireland. [Oh! Oh!]

Labouchere's amendment was defeated by a vote of 282 to 263.

Blaine on Chamberlain.

CORK, August 2.—It is reported that Blaine in conversation with some town councellors, who went on board the steamer City of New York, stated that he could not understand how Chamberlain was led to say that there were but few prominent public men in America who favored home rule. "It would be difficult," said Blaine, "to find any number of prominent Americans who were not home rulers." He did not believe in Chamberlain as a politician and thought that his influence was almost [illegible].

The Blaine Parade.

NEW YORK, August 2. James P. Foster, president of the national league of republican clubs, has been appointed marshal for the division consisting of all the league clubs participating in the Blaine parade. Captain Obed. Wheeler has been appointed marshal of the division to be composed of the veterans of the late war.

A Heavenly Visitant.

ROSSLYN, N. Y., August 2. Captain Tremper, of the steamboat Baldwin, reported this afternoon that a meteor crashed through the pilot house of his craft on Tuesday night off Manhattanville. Nobody hurt.

Bartley Campbell's Funeral.

PITTSBURG, August 2.—The remains of the famous playwright Bartley Campbell arrived from New York this morning and were interred in St. Mary's cemetery a few hours later. The body was first taken to St. Paul's cathedral where the casket was opened and the thousands of friends who had gathered to pay their final tribute to the popular journalist and dramatist were given an opportunity to look upon his face for the last time. The services were conducted by the Rev. Father Wall rector of the cathedral, after which the body was conveyed to the cemetery. There were a number of people who are connected with the theatrical profession present, and the numerous floral offerings showed that the deceased was not forgotten. The pall bearers were, Wm. M. Ramsey of the Globe, John A. Hazlett and W. W. Fulwood of the Leader, C. E. Locke of the Press and P. P. Case formerly of the Commercial Gazette, newspaper men who had been long and intimately acquainted with the dead dramatist.

A Young Girl's Deed.

PITTSBURG, August 2.—Miss May Patton of Johnstown, Penn., shot and killed Charles DeKnight a well known young man of Lawrenceville, this morning and then blew her brains out. The tragedy took place at the Metropolitan hotel in this city. The couple called at the hotel at five o'clock this morning and DeKnight registered as C. Lewis and wife. They were given a room and nothing more was heard from them until 9 o'clock when the guests were startled by the report of two pistol shots in quick succession. The hotel clerk ran to the room but the [illegible] was dead and it was necessary to break it down in order to effect an entrance. A terrible sight met the eyes of the clerk and guests who came hurrying to the scene. On the floor was DeKnight dead with a bullet hole in his temple and lying on the side of the bed was the woman dressed with blood trickling from a wound in her head and the revolver still tightly clasped in her hand. It is supposed that they had quarrelled and that DeKnight was about to leave the room when he was shot. Both moved in good society. The girl was the daughter of a furniture dealer at Johnstown and had always borne a good reputation. She was quite handsome and was about twenty years of age. DeKnight was a Pullman car conductor and lived with his parents in Lawrenceville. He was about 21 years of age. Upon searching the dead man's letter was found from the girl. It was addressed to [illegible] and in [illegible] she said [illegible] she was going to commit [illegible].

The Chicago Mystery.

CHICAGO, August 2. A new phase of the mystery attending the death of Mr. and Mrs. Hoech was developed to day. The pair were ardent believers in electricity. Both were in the habit of taking electric baths and were treated by electrical appliances. In the course of the investigation at the house of the dead couple a lady's waist was found this morning charged so heavily that a shock from it would surely prostrate a child. It is now supposed that Mrs. Hoech desired her husband to treat her with the electric battery. This he did and in an unfortunate moment accidentally turned on the battery at its full strength, giving his wife such a shock that she fell back dead. Realizing that he had caused his wife's death the frantic man took his own life by hanging himself in the doorway of his wife's room.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., August 2. Specials from St. Cloud and Sauk Rapids, state that a most terrific thunder storm occurred last night and torrents of rain [illegible] from 10 o'clock [illegible] morning. The water in the Mississippi river rose a foot and in the St. Cloud dam it [illegible] a height of eight feet. Many houses were struck by lightning, but fortunately there was no loss of life and no fires. Whole fields of wheat are under water and washed out. Two persons were struck by lightning at Sauk Rapids, but they have recovered. Many houses are flooded and can only be reached by boats. The damage will be many thousands of dollars. Three passenger trains on the Manitoba road are in the yards at St. Cloud unable to proceed.

The Sioux Treaty

ST. PAUL, August 2.—The Pioneer Press specials about the Standing Rock conference are rather contradictory to-night. The regular correspondent at the agency says: Yesterday's council lasted over four hours, but nothing was accomplished. The Indians refused to sign the treaty. Speeches were made by Gall, Mad Bear, Sitting Bull and other chiefs. Sitting Bull said that he was opposed to the treaty and as many of the Indians had crops to look after there was no use in keeping them in council longer. Gall said he would never sign either paper, and that this decision was final.

A Pierre correspondent says: "Direct and reliable information to-night from the Standing Rock agency, is to the effect that the Indians will sign the treaty beyond a doubt. The chiefs are simply holding off for presents, etc., and as no conference has there been any strong opposition to signing the treaty. Intelligence from the lower Brule and Crow creek this morning to the effect that there was no opposition down there, confirms the belief that commission will succeed in the work and that within three months the reservation will be thrown open. Governor Church has returned to Bismarck from the Standing Rock agency. He says that while the Indians are stubborn he believes that the commission will finally induce them to sign the treaty.

A Murderer Hanged.

CLEVELAND, O., August 2. Charles, alias Binkey Morgan, the principal figure in the Havenna rescue and murder of Detective Halligan, of Cleveland, was executed in the Ohio penitentiary this (Friday) morning.

The procession started to the gallows at 9 a. m. The execution was witnessed by about thirty people. Morgan was on the scaffold with the [illegible] entered the execution department. The warrant was read to him and Morgan stood like a statue as the ropes were adjusted. A friend of his raised some disturbance and caused loudly noted he was put out, but was re-admitted at the request of the condemned man. When all was ready, the black cap was drawn [illegible] and the [illegible] Morgan spoke in a loud tone: "Good bye, Nellie," and then the trap was sprung. The work was not successfully done. The body writhed in great agony, the legs jerked and the hands clutched together. He slowly strangled to death. The sentence was a horrible one.

The Stevens County War.

TOPEKA, Kas., August 2.—Attorney General Bradford and General Meyers have returned from Stevens county and made their report to Governor Martin. After hearing the report and recommendations of the officers the governor was satisfied that the civil authorities are powerless to preserve good order in Stevens county. He has therefore decreed that the second brigade, Kansas National Guards, and second battery of artillery of Topeka, should proceed there post haste and his order was sent out by telegraph. Eight companies will rendezvous at Hutchinson to night and will leave there at 8 o'clock to morrow morning by a special train for Stevens county. Complaints have been filed with United States Commissioner Wilson which charges the treasurer and his party with the murder of Cross and his posse.

To Visit Rome.

ROME, August 2.—On the occasion of the Emperor William's visit to Rome there will be a review of 40,000 troops, drawn from all the Italian regiments.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Folsom arrived in Washington yesterday.

The jury trials in the cases of the anarchists in Austria and Hungary have been suspended for one year.

General Boulanger and M. Laguerre are about to issue another electoral manifesto on the revision question.

Chief Justice Fuller will not take the oath of office until the reassembling of the supreme court in October.

The Cologne Gazette confirms the report that Emperor William will meet Queen Victoria on September 30th, during the latter's visit to her daughter at Boston.

Senator Dawes introduced a bill in the senate yesterday to ratify the agreement made by the Northwestern Indian commission with the Coeur D'Alene tribe of Indians in Idaho.

LOG CABIN DAYS.

Reminiscences of the "Tippecanoe and Tyler Too" Campaign.

The Great Enthusiasm Manifested all Over the Country.

Men Who Participated in the Canvass on Both Sides.

Some of the Songs Which Were Sung in the Campaign.

[illegible] signs indicate that it will be 1840 repeated. Now, as then, we have a great soldier, a Harrison, against a New York politician; a thoroughly western warrior and native American against a disciple of Tammany; and so all the students of political history are looking up the records of 1840. It is universally conceded that never before was the American republic so thoroughly aroused in politics. The excitement of this period was brought about by many complicated affairs of state. For ten years the Whig party, which as yet had never succeeded in controlling a presidential election, had labored for the recharter of a national bank. In 1837, early in the Van Buren administration, a general suspension of the banks, a depreciated currency and the insolvency of the federal treasury involved the country in a panic of irresistible force. The general suspension of business which ensued after the banks suspended specie payment diminished the current receipts from loads and customs, and caused an absolute deficit in the public treasury. However, this great financial crisis originated from an unfortunate [illegible] for the distribution and deposit of public land money with the states, whose faith was to be pledged for its return. The Whig party looked to the financial failure which followed during the Van Buren administration as stepping stones to [illegible] in the campaign of 1840.

CLEVELAND AT FORTY.

Circumstances often make men great. The unfortunate condition of our country is relegated Clay, Webster, Calhoun, Hayne, Cushing, Jackson and Harrison. It is British opera on the high [illegible] an eloquent theme for the development of Clay's originality, while British valor, strengthened by [illegible] of victories and aided by the [illegible] of [illegible] excited by the promises of reward, presented a glorious opportunity for the success of Gen. Harrison's cool headed, military management.

When the rumblings of foreign complications had for the time been stilled, and the country at large turned its attention to the management of home affairs, the discussion of protective tariff brought forth the [illegible] of Webster and Calhoun. Tariff has ever been an open issue of [illegible] politics. In 1839 it received [illegible] which led to the first [illegible] division between the north and the south. Then followed the [illegible] question. All these [illegible] called for [illegible] and vocation.

The year 1840 was [illegible] for the number of its truly great men. The leaders in congress were no [illegible] of Pitt, Fox and Sheridan, of the English [illegible]. There was a notable [illegible] of these statesmen, the little [illegible] and [illegible] of factions and [illegible] having subjected us to [illegible] and foreign [illegible] and corrupted the politics of our later times. But notwithstanding [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT
BENJAMIN HARRISON
Of Indiana.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT
LEVI P. MORTON,
Of New York.

Senator Bowen scored a great success in securing the passage of the amendment to the appropriation bill providing for the expenditure of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars on our arid lands. Senator Bowen does not often take the floor to speak. But he is personally liked by all the Senators so that he is influential in securing the passage of any bill to which he is interested. Personal popularity in the senate is of more importance than oratory. He is to be congratulated on his success.

Mr. D. B. Robinson who has resigned his position as general manager of the Colorado Midland Railway company to become an experienced railroad man. His ability in conducting the affairs of this road was generally acknowledged throughout the state. The following comments are taken from yesterday's Denver morning papers. The Republican said:

All who know him will regret that Mr. D. B. Robinson has resigned the position of general manager of the Colorado Midland Railroad company. His connection with that road commenced with a thousand shy was organized and he has done more than any other man to bring it to its present state of efficiency as one of the great lines of transportation in Colorado.

The News said:

The announcement of the resignation of Mr. D. B. Robinson superintendent of the Colorado Midland will deprive that road of a most efficient officer. Mr. Robinson brought to the Midland broad experience as railway manager the results of which have been seen in the admirable manner in which he has organized and controlled the Pike's Peak route. His administration has been a short but most successful one and he leaves [illegible] with the favor and respect of his subordinates, a satisfactory [illegible] of the general public.

There has been no more lamentable exhibition of party rashness than has been shown in the English government in the bill providing for the investigation of the charges against Parnell. These charges were untrue and the only vindication needed was to show that the letters published by the Times were forgeries. In any legislative body among the civilized nations of the world this contest of Parnell would have been instantly ended and granted. He could not afford as a member of parliament to be charged with disloyalty to the crown nor could parliament afford to have a member of its own body charged so definitely with disloyalty. Parliament itself as well as Mr. Parnell is interested in a trial of this matter. But parliament has not granted what was asked but has appointed a commission with unlimited chance for investigation. Nor has it provided that this investigation should be impartial. It has appointed a commission which [illegible] should have done but a commission of judges a majority of whom is a republican of the party of which Mr. Parnell is a member. The unionists and tories have only a bare majority in the house of commons yet every member of this commission has been selected from this majority and a minority of nearly half the members is unrepresented upon it. Where for [illegible] of any case of so partisan an appointment as this. Again instead of commencing the investigation to the charges against Mr. Parnell the commission is organized to enter into the investigation of the whole Irish question including all its relations and its various phases. The reason of this is obvious. It is [illegible] if it could be proven that these letters are genuine. But it is expected that by giving a large range to the inquiry Parnell may in some way be made responsible for the acts of others and so injured. The English people are naturally [illegible] that love fair play. They must see that the government is pursuing a very unfair course towards Parnell. The result will be to give Parnell greater popularity than he ever [illegible].

as now, was a third substance. Their desire was to labor where they felt they could do most good. Like sentiments and men of like caliber prevailed when the Whigs of 40 issued a call for the state convention to meet at the capital to nominate a candidate for governor. [illegible] was [illegible] appointed for the convention the citizens of the capital made extensive and hospitable preparations to entertain the vast crowds which were sure to be drawn to the city.

As early as Thursday morning, Feb 20, delegates from all parts began to pour into the town. I wish you could have seen them coming in carriages and wagons, by coach and on horseback spattered with mud and soaking wet from the rain which poured incessantly throughout the day and made the roads almost impassable. From Lake county, from Jefferson county and all her towns, from Washington Athens and Mobile they came straggling as they plodded through mud and mire. The streets are a mass of moving excited faces while ardor cannot be dampened by any freak of the elements.

All through the still hours of the night is heard the tramp of incoming horses.

From Rose Pike and Jackson counties, in the south the cry come and from the west they come gayly singing as the trail through the mud of the National road. From the north hour the jubilant exiles of eight [illegible] Yankee [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] From the shores of Lake Erie and the fertile banks of the Ohio, Scioto, Miami and Maumee, from the river men and the tillers of the soil reading a procession [illegible] two miles long. In the rude cabins are the primitive weapons and emblems of pioneer life, the gun, ax, deer skins and other spoils of the hunter.

And [illegible] the bounding roe.

In the open logs stand barrels of hard cider, and within there is plenty of ginger bread, hoe cake and bacon on which the hardy veterans feast with right good will. And as they make their way into the heart of the town [illegible] but by the rule. We have had a hard time on account of the mud. But we looked not behind for the cause was good. The object of our journey is plain to discover. 'Tis to row Matt Van Buren [illegible] in the salt river.

When this Grand Procession all reach the convention
Then we'll learn more fully Gen Harrison's intention.
We'll [illegible] why [illegible] that the [illegible] will look out
For they will know we are come to see their last hour.

O ching ring a ching, O ching ring a ching.

The procession is fortuitous. From private dwellings and public houses gay banners and floating ribbons flaunt on the breeze. The house tops are black with people. From every direction come bands of music, to the number of twenty, in gorgeous gilt cars, with splendid trappings, each drawn by six beautiful white horses, and to martial strains escorting various military companies, while the stirring notes of "Hail Columbia," "My Country 'tis of Thee," "The Star-Spangled Banner" fill the air and thrill the hearts of all. The city vibrates with the roar of a Niagara. It is impossible to make one's way through the mass of human beings blocking the corner of Broad and High streets, on a rated pavilion, the convention meets at 2 o'clock, with Gen. Tom, an old war friend and companion of Gen. Harrison in the chair. Whitened with the snows of seventy-one winters, Harrison's venerable war friend rises and eloquently tells of their leader's hardships and triumphs in the wild western territory, when the [illegible] blood thirsty tomahawk of the savage threatened the settlers' homes and filled the hearts of their wives and children with a horrible fear. BASE BALL.

The Best Game of the Season Played Yesterday Afternoon.

If the Colorado Springs club thought that they would have a picnic with the El Paso team yesterday afternoon they quickly changed their minds after the game was called. Both teams were in fine condition and were confident of victory. The game was witnessed by a large audience and was full of interest from start to finish. The two nines were well matched, the two pitchers were both in good form, and the batting was heavy on both sides. The features of the game were the batting of Hall and Fitzgerald, the fielding of Hall, Fitzgerald, Dorr and Hunter, and the pitching of Dorr and Fitzgerald. The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

Earned runs—Colorado Springs 2. Two-base hits—Hall, Fitzgerald. Three-base hits—Hall, Fitzgerald. Struck out—By Dorr 9, by Hunter 14. Umpire—H. C. Wooster.

A runaway occurred on the road between the Fountain and Camp creek bridges yesterday afternoon. Mr. Dorr's little son and a half-grown boy were driving a team of horses attached to a buggy, when the horses became frightened at a passing wagon and started to run away. The boys were thrown out, but fortunately escaped without injury. The buggy was considerably damaged.

COLORADO CITY ITEMS.

The Grand Army post will meet tomorrow night in Holt & Venable's office.

City Clerk Cochran has just received a new and handsome safe which will be used as a receptacle for the city's books.

Bowen & Co., of New York, weighs 4,650 pounds and cost $265.

Kid Swift, who robbed a man of a gold watch a few days ago has been captured in Salida and Deputy Sheriff Broaddus started yesterday morning to bring the culprit back to Colorado City. When caught Swift had the stolen watch on his person.

Mr. W. A. Love, who owns a large tract of land west and northwest of Colorado City, has been prospecting for coal latch on his premises and has found some fine coal and indications of a vein. The find was made at a point about half a mile north of the Fountain and a quarter of a mile west of Camp creek. Mr. Love expects to prosecute the search in a short time. It is very probable that a good vein of coal will be unearthed in the vicinity.

Monmouth Park Races.

Monmouth Park, N. J., August 2. Mile race—Flageletta won in 1.43½, Benedictine second, Starkaway third.

Three fourths mile—Chenise won in 1.16, Groomsman second, Carbinette third.

Mile and an eighth. Specialty won in 1.57, Inverbrook second, Cascade third.

Mile—Lady Primrose won, Cambyses second, Paragon third. Time 1.43.

Freehold stakes—Mile and a half—Ferenzo won. He was first away but soon gave way to the Bard who with a lead of two lengths showed the way to the starting post where the race began in earnest. Time for the mile 2.41. On the last half quarter of the mile from home the Bard still had a lead of a length and a half but as they straightened out for the run in Ferenzo came up and lapped him. Nearer they came, Hayward with clenched teeth now raises his whip. It descended with a sharp crack over the flanks of the flying Bard. Then went up the cry. The Bard is beaten. So it proved, Ferenzo drawing out in the last few strides and winning somewhat easily by a length. Time 2.41, equalling the best record.

Three quarters mile—Little Jake won in 1.17, Harrisburg second, Talisman third.

A Threatened Move.

Rome, August 2.—The government in a circular to the Catholic missions in Asia and Africa threatens to withdraw the subsidy to them unless they accept the patronage of King Humbert and permit a government inspector of their curriculum and books.

There will be a meeting of the board of trade this evening.

The Canon City base ball club has written for dates with the local club.

City Engineer H. C. Lowrie, of Denver, registered at The Antlers last night.

Mr. Walter White arrived at home yesterday from a month's overland tour of the western part of the state.

Mr. Charles Otis, who has been a student at Yale college for the past year, returned to the city yesterday.

Mr. Geo. F. Whitehead, traveling agent of the Denver News, spent yesterday in the city in the interest of his paper.

The books of The Antlers hotel show that during the month of July 2,000 persons arrived at that popular hostelry.

Little Edith Lowther, who was so severely injured by the kick of a horse, is much better and in a fair way to recover.

W. C. Bradbury, of Denver, head of the extensive railroad contracting firm of W. C. Bradbury & Co., was registered at The Antlers yesterday.

Mr. O. B. Storer has placed a handsome nickle-plated cash register in his drug store on Tejon street. It is not only useful but is a very attractive ornament.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union office for J. Dally, J. D. Works, Mrs. W. L. Harding, D. L. Musselman, Albert Scott and P. J. Masterson.

The game of ball between Ashley's Giants, of this city, and the Pueblo Blues, at the latter place on Wednesday, resulted in a victory for the home team, a score of 18 to 5.

Mr. E. F. McCloskey, the well-known commission merchant, has received a carload of fine watermelons from Georgia. The fruit is a delight forever and the pleasure of sampling one of them last night.

A couple of parties engaged in a little fistic set-to on the corner of Tejon and Pike's Peak avenue, about 9 o'clock last night. A select row of clerks from the proprietors of one of them was the most demonstrative.

Messrs. Joe McCombs, Fred Whitehead, Sam Lamkin and Ed Giles, who have been on a fortnight's camping tour in the mountains, got in last night well sunburned but in excellent condition. Their report of the sport, fish caught and a general good time. Charles Hoffert of Leadville Dutton came home with them.

Jessie Epperson, a young colored man living in the south part of the city, some time ago caused Tom Redmond another colored man, $9 on his gold watch. Last night Redmond went to Epperson's room and took the watch and then left on the night train for Topeka, Kas. Epperson immediately notified the police, who telegraphed the officers at Pueblo to keep a lookout for Redmond.

Mr. Conlrey, the manager of the electric clock exhibition, intended to exhibit in this city only three days. The exhibition has had a successful run of nearly two weeks, and last night the attendance was as large as that on the opening night. The exhibition will positively close to-morrow night. This afternoon a special lecture will be given on astronomy, for the benefit of the pupils of the public schools. The oxidine lime glass works will be in operation and the Floating Head will be exhibited. Ten cents admits to all.

Hugh Fay and Billy Barry, who appear at the opera house Saturday night in a return engagement, in their latest success, "McKenna's Flirtation," are too well known in this city to need much advertising and they will no doubt be greeted by one of the largest audiences of the season. "McKenna's Flirtation," a much better and much funnier piece every way than "Irish Aristocracy," which had such a long and successful run with these comedians, and it is needless to say that they make the most of the comical situations which it offers. In addition to the two stars there are a number of pretty girls and eccentric character actors in the cast who sing and dance admirably.

The resignation of Mr. D. B. Robinson as general manager of the Colorado Midland railroad comes as somewhat of a surprise both to railroad men and to the citizens generally, although some weeks ago it was discussed as among the possibilities. Mr. Robinson came to Colorado to accept the general management of the road some two years ago, and it has been largely through his untiring efforts and executive ability that the road has been pushed to completion. He is well known throughout the west as a successful railroad man, having been the general manager and builder of the [illegible] Central railroad, and he brought to the Midland at the time of its reorganization not only experience, but prestige and influence in railroad circles.

The reasons given by Mr. Robinson for his resignation, which will take effect on the 15th of this month, are of a personal nature. What his plans for the future are he does not as yet make public, but should they be of such a nature as to cause his removal from this city he will take with him the best wishes of both the employees of the Midland road and of our city, its people.

THE G. A. R. EXCURSION TO COLUMBUS.

All members of the Grand Army of the Republic will remember with pleasure the delightful trip to St. Louis last year via the WABASH, and many will bear in mind that the WABASH special train was the only one from the Western country which arrived in St. Louis on time.

As the WABASH is the SHORT LINE to St. Louis it is the fast line to Columbus, O., as it should bear this in mind and write to [illegible] C. M. HAMPSON,
No. 10 Windsor Block, Denver.

MIDLAND COAL—is now ready for delivery. Order book at Hagus Grocery store, Kramer & Co.'s coal office north of post office, and at Treasurer's office, Midland Railway.

BEST LINE EAST.

The Colo. Pacific Ry is by all odds the "Best Line East," on account of the fast time that is made and the reasonable hours for leaving Denver. Also the close connection that is made in Tejon depot with the trains from Kansas City, Council Bluffs, St. Louis and Chicago, reaching all the principal cities in the east. The C. P. Ry. is also the short line to the Pacific coast, running two trains daily west and four trains to the east daily. The evening train from Colorado Springs makes close connection in Denver with the Fast Mail. Ry
